

Rock University is proud to introduce to you “Andrew’s Anarchy”, a rock n’ roll cover band primed and ready for some gigs.

The band members have been with Rock University’s Private Music Lesson Program as well as Band Development Program for quite some time now. They have all been performing regularly at the student concerts that Rock U hosts. Resultantly, these talented up-and-coming star musicians have learned how to beat stage fright and how to play with confidence. They’ve dealt with the stage equipment mishaps. They’ve learned how to listen to one another’s parts and read one another’s cues. They’ve learned how to entertain and rock your socks off!

“Andrew’s Anarchy” consists of P.J. Cartwright on the vocals, Alan Pobst on guitar and drums, Andrew Nguyen on the drums and guitar, and Tony Alsnauer on the bass. Additional musicians to fatten up the sound include veteran instructors and multi-instrumentalists/vocalists Paul and Danica Bartelme.

The band is officially available for booking, so what are you waiting for? Give Rock U’s booking agency a call at the number below.
